

FASTENAL RACING INTERNSHIP

CLICK HERE TO APPLY!

At Chip Ganassi Racing with Felix Sabates

This fall Fastenal Company, proud sponsor of the No. 40 Fastenal Dodge Charger in the NASCAR Nationwide Series, is offering an internship* opportunity through Chip Ganassi Racing with Felix Sabates (CGRFS), an elite NASCAR racing team.

On October 26 two automotive trade students will be flown to the CGRFS state-of-the-art race shop facilities in Concord, NC, to work with the No. 40 crew in preparation for the team's November 1 race at Texas Motor Speedway – from testing and tuning to fabrication and paint. During the race they'll have a chance to support the pit crew and get an inside look at the speed, excitement and skill that is NASCAR racing. (Drivers for the No. 40 program include reigning Indy 500 champ Dario Franchitti® and rising Cup Series star Reed Sorenson™.)

The two interns will also receive a 9 piece SAE GearWrench XL X-Beam Set, 12 piece Metric XL X-Beam Set, 40" Craftsman Tool Chest and a 40" Craftsman Tool Cart, courtesy of Danaher.

TO QUALIFY, YOU MUST:

- Be 18 years or older
- Graduate between December 1, 2007 and August 31, 2008 with a degree in the automotive trade from a technical school located in the U.S.A.
- Pass at least two ASE tests prior to August 31, 2008. (Visit www.ase.com for test dates and registration.)

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN FOR YOUR SCHOOL?

If one of your school's recent graduates is chosen to be an intern, your school will receive a 7 piece SAE Reversing Combination Wrench Roll Set from GearWrench. Also, an ASE certified instructor or staff member from your automotive department will have the opportunity to be flown to Texas Motor Speedway on Nov 1st to watch your school's recent graduate in action alongside the No. 40 pit crew, with pit row seats courtesy of ASE.
